- c. it must be in English or in a language approved by the Dean, Graduate Studies and reach a satisfactory standard of presentation; and
- d. it must have a substantial written component but may also contain a significant amount of non-written material.

(34) The thesis will consist of the candidate's own account of the work, except that, in special cases, work done conjointly with other persons may be accepted provided the Dean, Graduate Studies is satisfied in respect of the candidate's part in the joint work. Candidates must adhere to the principles for authorship and research best practise as outlined in Southern Cross Universities Research Responsible Conduct Policy.

(35) On submitting a thesis a candidate will present sufficient evidence of its authenticity and originality, and to this end will submit a written statement at the front of the thesis:

- a. indicating which portions are original and which are not; and
- b. giving the sources of information if these are not adequately indicated in the thesis; and
- c. indicating whether, and if so to what extent, any of the material submitted, or work on which it is based, has been used in seeking another degree in the University or elsewhere.

(36) A candidate will submit with, but separately from, the thesis a short abstract of the thesis comprising not more than 400 words and written in a form suitable for publication.

(37) A candidate may not submit as the main content of the thesis any work or material which has previously been accepted for a degree or other similar award but will not be precluded from incorporating such work or material in the thesis, provided that the candidate indicates, generally in the preface and specifically in the notes, the work or material which has been so incorporated.

(38) The candidate may submit as supporting documents any work published by the candidate, but only if it bears on the subject of the thesis.

Part I - Thesis Submission

(39) Candidates must submit the final draft of their Thesis for text-matching analysis in accordance with the Text Matching Software Higher Degree by Research Procedures.

(40) A candidate will present a thesis for examination a minimum of two months prior to their maximum duration of candidature. The Manager, Graduate School may approve an extension of time in special circumstances.

(42) The Candidate will prepare their thesis in the format prescribed by the Graduate School and submit it to the relevant Director of Higher Degree Research Training. This may include:

- a. up to four copies of the thesis in the form of hard copy, temporary binding; and/or
- b. an electronic copy of the thesis.

(43) The thesis will be submitted to the Graduate School by the relevant Director of Higher Degree Research Training with a certificate signed by the Principal Supervisor certifying that the candidate's work, including the thesis, is in a form suitable for examination.

(44) If the Principal Supervisor does not recommend the thesis as being suitable for examination, the Candidate may seek a review of this decision (see clauses (73) to (73)).

Part J - Thesis Examination

(45) The Dean, Graduate Studies will appoint two examiners both of whom will be external to the University. A supervisor of a candidate will not also be an examiner. Each examiner will make a separate report and recommendation on the merit of the thesis and any other work submitted for examination.

(46) The examiners' reports on a thesis will be forwarded to the relevant Director of Higher Degree Research Training for comment, who in turn will forward them to the Principal Supervisor and the candidate for comment. The examiners' reports, together with any written comments received from the Principal Supervisor and the candidate, will then be considered by the relevant Director of Higher Degree Research Training, who will make a recommendation to the Dean, Graduate Studies.

(47) The recommendation of the relevant Director of Higher Degree Research Training, together with the reports of the examiners and any written comments received from the Principal Supervisor and candidate, will be considered by the Dean, Graduate Studies, who will have broad discretion to seek additional input as appropriate, and who will:

- a. recommend to Academic Board that the candidate be conferred to a PhD degree; or
- b. recommend to Academic Board that candidature be terminated.

(48) Before making a recommendation to the Academic Board, the Dean, Graduate Studies may require:

- a. a candidate to address any matters raised in the examiners' reports;
- b. a candidate to address additional issues in the thesis;
- c. additional input to the examination process, for example, the candidate may be required to undertake a written or oral examination of the thesis under such reasonable conditions as determined by the Dean, Graduate Studies; and/or
- d. re-examination of the thesis within six months if full-time, or within one year if part-time.

(49) Candidates required to undertake changes to their thesis in response to examiners' reports prior to award will be required to undertake these changes within three months for full-time students (and six months for part-time students) after the date of notification of these. The School and Principal Supervisor are required to review these and submit a report on changes made for final ratification by the Dean, Graduate Studies no later than six months after the original notification of these to the student (unless a longer period is approved by the Dean, Graduate Studies).

(50) A candidate whose thesis fails re-examination, as conducted under conditions prescribed by the Dean, Graduate Studies, will have their candidature terminated and will not be eligible for re-enrolment in a PhD degree in the same topic area.

(51) A candidate will be required to submit copies of their final thesis to the Graduate School in the format prescribed by the Graduate School. This may include:

- a. one unbound copy for distribution to the University Library; and
- b. one digital copy.

(52) The digital copy of the thesis will be deposited with the Graduate School using the prescribed form. This digital copy will be:

- a. included in the institutional repository for archival purposes; and
- b. made available on open online access unless application to restrict access is made and decided in accordance with clauses (53) - (55). Some third party copyright material contained in the thesis may need to be removed to provide online access. This will be done on the advice of the University Copyright Officer.

(53) The copies of the thesis deposited with the University Library will be available for consultation, loan, or copying at the discretion of the University Librarian, unless the University on the application of the candidate determines that it will not be available until after the expiry of a period, which period will not normally exceed two years. The University Librarian will require each user and recipient of a copy of a thesis to undertake in writing to respect the author's rights under the law relating to copyright.

(54) A candidate may, when lodging a thesis, make application on the prescribed form to the Dean, Graduate Studies, to restrict access to a thesis, either in whole or in part, and in all formats. The Dean, Graduate Studies, will decide such application in accordance with the terms detailed on the prescribed form. Normally, access may be restricted for a period up to two years. In special cases, application may be made to restrict access for a longer period. Where the thesis contains material which the candidate considers should have restricted distribution, the Principal Supervisor, the Director, Higher Degree Research Training, and the examiners will be informed which parts are classified.

(55) Where a candidate states that a thesis contains confidential information which the candidate does not desire to be disclosed freely, or which the candidate is not at liberty to disclose freely, the candidate may, to the extent that it is possible, place that information in an appendix to the thesis. The copy of the thesis deposited in the University Library will have a notation, authorised by the Manager of the Graduate School, indicating which parts of the thesis are not included because they contain confidential information, and informing the reader to contact the candidate for further information.

Part K - Duration of Candidature, Recreation Leave, Leave of Absence/Interruption, Cancellation

Duration of Candidature

(56) The maximum period of candidature for a PhD candidate is four years full-time, or eight years part-time. This does not include approved extensions or periods of approved leave of absence/interruption.

(57) The Manager, Graduate School, on the recommendation of the Principal Supervisor and relevant Director of Higher Degree Research Training, may approve an extension or leave of absence/interruption of candidature for a period or periods totalling no more than one year.

Recreation Leave

(58) Candidates are entitled to 20 days of Recreation Leave per equivalent full-time year. Recreation Leave will be available in the first year of candidature on a pro rata basis.

(59) A maximum of 20 days of Recreation Leave may be accrued. That is, unused leave in one year does not ordinarily carryover and must be taken during the year it is accrued.

(60) Proposed dates for Recreation Leave should be discussed with your Principal Supervisor in the first instance. Recreation Leave requires the approval of your Principal Supervisor and the relevant Director, Higher Degrees Research Training who must advise the Graduate School.

Leave of Absence/Interruption

(61) The Dean, Graduate Studies may permit interruption beyond one year, at their discretion and on the recommendation of the Manager, Graduate School.

(62) Unless the Manager, Graduate School, or the Dean, Graduate Studies, otherwise determines, a candidate will maintain continuous enrolment until all requirements for award of the degree have been met.

(63) A candidate may cancel enrolment at any time by giving written notice to the Graduate School.

(64) A candidate who exceeds the maximum tenure without an approved extension, will be deemed to be, and recorded as having 'lapsed candidature'. A lapsed candidate may apply to the Graduate School for re-admission to candidature for the purpose of submitting a thesis which, if the readmission is approved, must be submitted within one calendar month and sent for examination.

(65) An application for re-admission must be made within the following time periods:

- a. candidates who were enrolled full time when their candidature lapsed - up to six months from notification of lapse of candidature;
- b. candidates who were enrolled part time when their candidature lapsed - up to twelve months from notification of lapse of candidature

(66) Any lapsed candidate who does not apply for readmission to submit a thesis for examination by the end of their maximum period of lapsed candidature, or whose readmission application is rejected, or who does not submit within the one calendar month following readmission, will be considered to have failed and will have their candidature terminated.

(67) Within eight weeks of a student becoming a lapsed candidate, the Principal Supervisor will provide the Manager, Graduate School with a written report on the reasons for the candidate's failure to submit a thesis within the maximum period of candidature. The Manager, Graduate School may seek further information from the Principal Supervisor, student and/or other members of the supervisory team concerning the unsuccessful candidature.

Part L - Re-admission

(68) A candidate whose candidature is terminated will not be eligible to be re-admitted until one year after the date of termination, unless approved by the Manager, Graduate School.
