

Doctoral Internship Guidelines

Section 1 - Purpose

(1) The University provides opportunities for its Doctor of Philosophy and Professional Doctorate candidates to undertake industry internships. Doctoral Internships are intended to provide doctoral candidates with a practical research training experience in order to secure knowledge outcomes that are both transferable and relevant.

(2) These Guidelines set out the eligibility, requirements and processes relating to Commonwealth Research Training Program industry internships.

Section 2 - Definitions

(3) Words in these Guidelines have the meaning set out in the Definitions \(Academic\) Policy. In addition, the following definitions apply:

- a. Doctoral Internship means an internship undertaken by a Doctor of Philosophy or Professional Doctorate student which meets the requirements set out in these Guidelines and the Higher Education Support \(Commonwealth Scholarships\) Guidelines (Cth).
- b. Doctoral Internship Agreement means an agreement as set out in Section 5 below.
- c. Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) Day means:
 - i. the number of hours in a standard working day for the industry associated with the Research End-User; or
 - ii. if there is no standard working day, 7.6 hours.
- d. Research End-User means an individual, community or organisation external to academia that will directly use or directly benefit from the output, outcome or results of the research, including businesses, governments, non-governmental organisations, communities and community organisations. Other higher education providers, their affiliates, controlled entities or subsidiaries of a higher education provider, or their equivalent are not Research End-Users.
- e. Research Training Program (RTP) Scholarship stipend means a stipend funded by the Australian government which provides support for the general living costs of Higher Degree students through an annual stipend.
- f. Suspension means, for a candidate in receipt of a RTP Scholarship stipend, a period approved by the University during which the candidate is not receiving the scholarship stipend.

- b. undertaken part-time or full-time.
- c. paid or unpaid.

(9) Subject to the criteria of the Doctoral Internship Agreement and the Research End-User, an internship may be undertaken as a block of time (continuous and full-time) or on a part-time basis (for example two days per week).

(10) Candidates must obtain formal approval from the Dean, Graduate School prior to committing to a Doctoral Internship.

(11) Candidates wishing to engage in a Doctoral Internship with a Research End-User located outside of Australia, or an entity of a foreign government located within Australia, must seek advice from the Graduate School prior to commencing discussions with the potential international Research End-User.

Section 5 - Doctoral Internship Agreements

(12) A written Doctoral Internship Agreement signed by the University, the Research End-User and the candidate is required for all Doctoral Internships.

(13) The Doctoral Internship Agreement must specify:

- a. the research and development activities to be undertaken by the candidate with the Research End-User; and
- b. the duration of the Doctoral Internship.

(14) A Doctoral Internship Agreement is still required for Doctoral Internship undertaken by a candidate at the same place as their on-going employment.

Section 6 - 6 - Undertaking a Doctoral Internship

Internship Management

(15) Doctoral Internships can form part of a candidate's enrolment or can be undertaken during a period of leave of absence/interruption of their candidature.

(16) If the Doctoral Internship forms part of their enrolment, the candidate may have their period of candidature extended by the equivalent period of the internship, up to a maximum of 60 FTE Days.

(17) Candidates undertaking an unpaid Doctoral Internship are covered by the University's travel, personal accident, public liability and professional indemnity protections provided:

- a. the Doctoral Internship has been approved by the University; and
- b. the candidate remains enrolled in their doctoral program for the duration of the internship.

(18) For paid Doctoral Internships, the Research End-User is responsible for maintaining public liability insurance and workers compensation insurance for the candidate.

(19) Unless specified within the individual Doctoral Internship Agreement, candidates are responsible for any travel, accommodation and other costs associated with undertaking a Doctoral Internship.

(20) The Research End-User is responsible for ensuring compliance with the Fair Work Act 2009 (Cth).

(21) Supervisors must maintain contact with candidates undertaking Doctoral Internships.
